INTRODUCTION

I am excited to again to be teaching with my long-time friend Charlie Cramer. Our Mono Lake and the Eastern Sierra: Exploring Autumn Light workshop has been extremely popular since we first offered it in 2010. When initially discussing teaching workshops together it was our hope that uniting photographers working with both traditional analog and digital technologies would create a synergistic environment. The feedback from our workshop participants, as well as the interest in our past workshops, has proven our suspicions were correct. The response to my Expressive Black and White Print and Fine Tuning workshops—after decades of offering both workshops—continues to remain strong, which is gratifying and rewarding. I look forward to the opportunity of sharing my passion for photography with some of you this year.

The workshops included in this year's program will provide opportunities to learn from successful working photographers. The instructors and assistants will willingly share their experiences with you — both successes and mistakes — they have NO SECRETS. The workshops are an intense experience, in which one will be immersed in photography from early in the morning until late at night. You will be tired at the end of the workshop, but will be filled with information and inspiration.

All of us involved in this workshop program share the desire for creating an atmosphere of excitement, while providing you with the knowledge and motivation you need to transform your ideas into successful photographs. All of the workshops offer a combination of instruction in the aesthetic and technical considerations involved in making expressive photographs. The exploration of ideas and concepts, rather than dogma, will be emphasized in communicating information, thoughts, and perceptions in a comfortable, non-competitive environment. The workshops are intended for the individual who is seriously interested in an exploration of photography, and who is committed to actively participating and working at improving their craft, personal vision, and direction.

These workshops offer opportunities to receive instruction and inspiration from photographers of distinctive abilities, and are structured to allow for an intimate atmosphere, conducive to learning, sharing, and creativity. Directed outdoor photography sessions, portfolio reviews, informal discussions, along with instructor demonstrations and presentations, will be included in all workshops. I am looking forward to participating with some of you in our 2017–2018 workshop program!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A very special thanks to Kodak Alaris for its continuing dedication to photographic education. This year marks their thirtieth year of generous sponsorship of my workshops! In particular, I would like to express appreciation to Tim Ryugo for his commitment to this workshop program.

I have relied on Gitzo tripods to steadily support my cameras since 1983. My thanks to Gitzo and the Manfrotto Distribution team for their support of this workshop program. Special thanks to Adam Mirabella, Paul Zakrzewski, Sandro Ledesma, Shanna Smith, and Donna Narkiewicz.

I am pleased to have Epson America, Inc. as a workshop partner. I was honored to be featured in the excellent videos they produced on black and white photography. I have known Dan “Dano” Steinhardt for decades, and it is a pleasure to work with him on photographic projects.

I am thrilled to again have OmegaBrandess as a workshop sponsor. My Omega/LPL variable contrast enlargers have been valuable print making tools for more than twenty years, and are still going strong. I would like to thank the OmegaBrandess team for their support of my program.

I am pleased to have Freestyle Photographic Supplies as a workshop sponsor. I made my first purchase at the small Freestyle store in 1970 and have been a customer ever since. Freestyle is unique among photographic retailers in their commitment to traditional photographic products and the scope of their product selection.

It is a pleasure to have The Tiffen Company as a sponsor. Thanks to Steve Tiffen and Carol Posnack. I have been using Tiffen filters, and other fine Tiffen products, with great results for over thirty years.

For many years I have relied on Gore-Tex garments and boots to provide comfort when photographing the landscape. I want to thank Dan Madden, from W.L. Gore & Associates, for his support of this workshop program.

For more than 35 years, I have worked closely with Kevin Broady on the printing of my books, posters, note cards, and workshop brochures. It is always a pleasure to work with Kevin, along with James Joyce and his dedicated team of skilled professionals at Dual Graphics.

Finally, I would like to thank all of our Associate Partners for the valuable assistance they generously provide: LaserSoft Imaging, Photographic Solutions, Think Tank Photo, and X-Rite Photo.

THE EXPRESSIVE BLACK AND WHITE PRINT

JOHN SEXTON AND ANNE LARSEN

MARCH 21–26, 2017 APRIL 4–9, 2017 MARCH 20–25, 2018

This extremely popular workshop celebrates its thirty-fourth anniversary in 2017! Each of the workshop sessions concentrates on darkroom demonstrations in the art of black and white printing by noted photographer John Sexton. Conducted in John's state-of-the-art studio and darkroom in the rolling hills of California, each intense workshop is limited to ten participants in order to maximize the benefit for all involved. Assisted by talented photographer, Anne Larsen, John demonstrates the decision-making process leading to the final print, including the Zone System of exposure and development, the production of high quality negatives, creative printing techniques, advanced print manipulation techniques, processing for permanence, and presentation of the finished print. Emphasizing the aesthetic considerations and consequences of each procedure, the well-organized, thorough demonstrations will include: determination of proper print exposure, variable contrast printing controls, advanced dodging and burning procedures, localized print flashing, local print reduction, localized selenium intensification of negatives, and much more.

Portfolio reviews will offer constructive evaluation of participants' prints and negatives, and discussions explore the possibilities involved in creating expressive prints. A directed field session on the spectacular Monterey Peninsula will allow participants to put new ideas into practice. This workshop includes a unique and popular session, where John evaluates both successful as well as problematic participant negatives.

All applicants must have a working knowledge of black and white printing technique and should be actively involved in traditional darkroom print making. Each workshop begins at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday evening and ends about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon, and includes daily refreshment breaks and three meals during the workshop, along with a 100+ page workshop syllabus. Three identical workshops are offered. Talented photographer Anne Larsen will serve as the co-instructor on this workshop. If possible, please list alternate workshop dates when applying. Early application is highly recommended as these workshops often fill quickly.

FEE: $1,300 (INCLUDES ALL PARK ENTRANCE AND PERMIT FEES)

MONO LAKE AND THE EASTERN SIERRA: EXPLORING AUTUMN LIGHT CHARLES CRAMER AND JOHN SEXTON

OCTOBER 15–20, 2017

By popular demand we are pleased to once again offer this extremely popular workshop. The Mono Basin and Eastern Sierra have some of the most exciting photographic opportunities imaginable. Autumn light and fall colors will add to the magic and wonder of this area. This field workshop will allow you to explore the spectacular photographic possibilities of this amazing landscape under the leadership of two skilled and talented photographers, Charles Cramer and John Sexton, and is open to dedicated photographers working with either traditional or digital materials. The most important thing is to come with an open mind and a desire to work hard at improving your photography. If you are interested in attending this workshop please send your application soon. It is certain that the session will be fully subscribed.

The group will be visiting a number of exciting locations to explore during the workshop. We will be photographing late and early light on the unique tufa formations on multiple field sessions at Mono Lake, as well as exploring nearby beautiful Sierra canyons and the spectacular Yosemite high country. Sexton and Cramer, along with workshop assistant Anne Larsen, will be available to assist participants in the field and will be offering indoor instruction sessions. We will utilize a large, comfortable classroom facility in Lee Vining, just a few hundred yards from the shore of Mono Lake and within walking distance of our motel. Along with instructor presentations and demonstrations, an important aspect of the workshop will be constructive portfolio reviews of prints that participants bring to the workshop. It will be a time of great scenery, photography, and camaraderie.

Included in the workshop fee will be a specially catered dinner the final night of the workshop, as well as one lunch in the field, along with handout booklets from both Charlie and John. Lodging, additional meals, and transportation costs are the responsibility of each participant. This workshop is limited to fifteen people, and no guests are allowed. Early enrollment is advised. The workshop begins on Sunday morning, and ends late Friday evening.

FEE: $1,650 (INCLUDES ALL PARK ENTRANCE AND PERMIT FEES)

FINE TUNING THE EXPRESSIVE PRINT

JOHN SEXTON AND ANNE LARSEN

APRIL 3–8, 2018

A continuation and expansion of John's printing workshops, this outstanding workshop is being offered for the twenty-ninth time! This workshop is open only to those who have previously attended one of John's printing workshops listed in the margin. To receive optimum benefit from this workshop it is important that at least one year of active photography has taken place since attending the prerequisite workshop.

Following a brief review of topics and techniques covered in the prerequisite workshop, John will discuss and demonstrate additional advanced printmaking techniques, including: the effects of various developer formulas; simplified procedures that will demystify unsharp masking of negatives for local contrast and sharpness control; masked flashing for easier printing of difficult negatives; post processing negative enhancements; dye manipulation of negatives; handling problem negatives; along with many other printing and processing refinements.

Each participant will have the unique opportunity to print from one of John's negatives prior to the workshop as part of an exercise exploring the creative process of expressive printmaking. In addition, participants will need to bring work completed since their participation in the prerequisite workshop to share during the portfolio review sessions. The field session, as well as discussion sessions, will explore problems and questions encountered since the last workshop. All classroom and demonstration sessions will be held in John's darkroom and studio in Carmel Valley, California.

The workshop will begin at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday evening, and will end about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon. The workshop fee will include daily refreshment breaks and three meals. Talented photographer Anne Larsen will serve as the co-instructor on this workshop. The workshop is limited to ten participants, and early enrollment is advised to avoid disappointment.

FEE: $1,400 (INCLUDES ALL PARK ENTRANCE AND PERMIT FEES)

Note: In order to enroll in this workshop you must have previously attended one of the following printing workshops with John: The Expressive Black and White Print at John's studio, Anderson Ranch Arts Center, The Maine Photographic Workshops, Palm Beach Photographic Workshops or the University of Wisconsin.

SCHEDULING A JOHN SEXTON LECTURE OR SEMINAR

John is an articulate speaker with a delightful sense of humor, a wealth of photographic expertise, and a passion for photography and the environment. His presentations are educational, informative, and entertaining. John has lectured internationally on a variety of photographic topics, including his own work and the influence of other photographers on his photography. In addition, he has a variety of lectures on the subject of his friend and photographic mentor, Ansel Adams. John's presentations in the recent past include events for Adobe Systems, Apple, Center for Creative Photography at the University of Arizona, George Eastman House, Monterey Museum of Art, New Hampshire Institute of Art, and Oregon State University.

John is available to present lectures and seminars at colleges, universities, and museums, as well as corporations, photographic organizations, gatherings, and retreats. John's lectures are of interest to photographers and non-photographers alike. If you are interested in booking John for a presentation please contact Anne Larsen with a proposal. It is helpful if you have possible dates, group size, and budget information available when inquiring.

JOHN SEXTON TRAVELING EXHIBITION BOOKING INFORMATION

For those of you involved with organizations, such as museums, colleges and universities, art centers, galleries, and other venues, that might be interested in hosting John's traveling exhibition, John Sexton: A Photographer's Journey, please contact Anne Larsen to discuss details and rental fees.

This exhibition presents a representative selection of John's photographs that reflect his love affair with photography and the beauty of the earth. The exhibition can be configured between twenty-five and sixty handcrafted silver gelatin prints, based on the curatorial desires of the venue, as well as space available. The photographs are framed and ready for display.

INTRODUCTION TO THE FACULTY

JOHN SEXTON DIRECTOR AND INSTRUCTOR

A former director of the Ansel Adams Workshops, and the Owens Valley Photography Workshops, John Sexton has conducted hundreds of photography workshops around the world. Respected as a photographer and printmaker, Sexton prefers to photograph the quiet message of his subjects, conveying his love of light. John's three previous books, Listen to the Trees, Quiet Light, and Places of Power showcase his finely crafted large format images, and have won numerous awards. John served as Technical and Photographic Assistant, and then consultant, to Ansel Adams from 1979 to 1984. He continues to serve as Photographic Special Projects Consultant to The Ansel Adams Publishing Rights Trust, and is a consultant to the photographic industry. In January 2005 John received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the North American Nature Photography Association. In October 2006 John's most recent award-winning book, Recollections: Three Decades of Photographs, was published by Ventana Editions.

ANNE LARSEN INSTRUCTOR

Anne Larsen received her formal photographic training in Denmark, where she worked as a successful photographer for one of the largest commercial studios in Copenhagen. In 1994 she moved to the United States, and has worked as John Sexton's Photographic Assistant since that time. She is actively involved in all of the workshops offered on this program. Her intimate still lifes and delicate photographs of the natural environment, all made with a 4x5" view camera, share a common luminosity and elegance. In addition to John's workshops, Anne has assisted on workshops instructed by James Baker, Morley Baer, Ruth Bernhard, Philip Hyde, and Ray McSavane. Her prints are in numerous private and public collections in North America and Europe. Anne assists her husband, John Sexton, in all aspects of his photography.

CHARLES CRAMER INSTRUCTOR

After spending seven years of college studying classical piano, Charles Cramer visited Yosemite National Park, and soon discovered he wanted out of those tiny practice rooms! Realizing the similarities between interpreting music and interpreting a negative, he soon became enamored with making prints. Thirty years later, he is recognized as a master printmaker in both darkroom-based dye transfer printing, and now in digital processes. Cramer has photographed extensively in Yosemite, and in 1987 and 2009 was selected by the National Park Service to be an artist-in-residence. His prints are available internationally through many galleries, and his work has been published by National Geographic Books, Sierra Club, and the Yosemite Association. He has taught digital imaging for the Ansel Adams Gallery Workshops, Palm Beach Workshops, Anderson Ranch Arts Center, The Lepp Institute, and others. He has been profiled in PhotoTechniques, PhotoVision, and View Camera Magazines. He is also included in the book Landscape: The World's Top Photographers, published in 2005. His work can be seen at www.charlescramer.com.

WORKSHOP PARTICIPANT TESTIMONIALS

I have had the great privilege of teaching photography workshops for nearly forty years. I love the opportunity to share my knowledge and love of the magical medium of photography. My own photography—and indeed my life—was transformed when I was a participant at an Ansel Adams Yosemite workshop many years ago. Over the years I have had the pleasure to work with literally thousands of workshop participants during hundreds of workshops. Here are some unsolicited comments, used with permission, from a few of those participants. — John Sexton

“I have attended many photographic workshops and, without a doubt, this workshop was the best by a wide margin. The amount of valuable and useful information was incredible; it will take me a while to digest and absorb it all. I cannot wait to put what I learned to good use. John is a fabulous instructor and his love for photography and teaching are very evident.

—Barry, Dallas, Texas

The Expressive Black and White Print Workshop

“John and his wife Anne hold the best photography workshop I have ever attended. They run the workshop professionally and in a well-organized manner. Participants enjoy the benefits of receiving instruction in a first-class black and white darkroom and studio while enjoying the welcoming feeling of being guests at their home.

John covers complicated topics in a way that everyone could understand, and pays attention to all necessary details. His passion for photography is reflected by the way he teaches, motivating participants to continue working on improving their photographic skills. After taking his workshop, I have certainly raised my photography standards to a totally new level.”

—Sergio, Folsom, California

The Expressive Black and White Print Workshop

John, Anne, and Charlie:

Greetings, what a great workshop!

I want to thank you all and lavish praise on the design of the Luminous Print workshop.

But, first let me say how inspiring and useful the program content was for me. I would also add that it was great fun.

In a former life I put on training programs and workshops on business strategy development within Hewlett Packard’s various business units. I mention this because I am very aware of how difficult it is to architect a curriculum and design a flow—all the while keeping students fully engaged and enthusiastic.

Having said this, I think the way you’ve organized and paced the various elements of this program was brilliant. Though the days were long I can’t think of one thing I’d remove. And John, while it embarrasses me to admit this, prior to coming I doubted the darkroom parts would be of much a value to me (because I make inkjet prints). Boy, was I wrong!

I got at least three things out of the darkroom part: 1) a greater appreciation of the difficulty and craftsmanship that goes into the process; 2) an opportunity to see how YOU look at a print and make judgments about what you want to change; and 3) by seeing the context and where some of the terminology originates, I have a better sense of why and at what points various digital processes are employed (I’m thinking specifically about local contrast).

So, aside from the “what” you were covering, the “HOW” was amazing.

Congratulations to the three of you. I only hope I can do the material justice in my art making.

—Peter, San Mateo, California

The Luminous Print: A Synthesis of Traditional and Digital Workshop

John Sexton and Charles Cramer

I had a great time on the recent Mono Lake workshop with Charlie, Anne, and you. I feel like I made a major improvement in my photography as a result of the workshop. The opportunity to get feedback from you and Charlie, as well as from the other attendees, was very powerful. That, plus the opportunity to see others work helped me see what was possible.”

—Kent, Tucson, Arizona

Mono Lake and the Eastern Sierra: Exploring Autumn Light Workshop

John Sexton and Charles Cramer

“Thank you for a great workshop experience. I appreciate the professionalism shown throughout the entire workshop, keeping on schedule, covering so many topics, and still being accessible for individual concerns and questions. I am still processing the invaluable knowledge you departed on me and am still reading and using the workshop manual as a reference here at home. I am slowly gathering certain items and adding them to my darkroom so I can attempt the techniques I watched you demonstrate in your darkroom.

Thank you for welcoming all of us into your home and studio, what a privilege that was! Anne, thank you for the wonderful meals, hospitality, and great instructions you gave throughout the workshop. Your ability to keep the workshop on schedule is a great asset to how well run and organized this workshop is. No wonder there is a long waiting list. The long hours you two put in attest again to your dedication and professionalism.”

—Stephanie, Casper, Wyoming

The Expressive Black and White Print Workshop

Read a detailed account of The Expressive Black and White Print Workshop written by our friend and talented photographer Rafal Lukawiecki. His article will give you an idea of what it is like to attend one of John’s workshops.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

To apply for the workshop(s) of your choice, please complete and sign the application form provided in this brochure. Return it with a deposit of $250 for each workshop. The deposit includes a non-refundable $150 acceptance fee. If you are not enrolled in a workshop all fees paid will be refunded.

Send your signed application form and deposit to:

John Sexton Photography Workshops
Post Office Box 30
Carmel Valley, California 93924 USA

There is no deadline for application. However, many of the workshops fill immediately so, to avoid disappointment, prompt application is advisable.

Your participation for the entire workshop session is extremely important. If your schedule requires you to arrive after the start, or to leave prior to the end of the workshop, please make other arrangements or plan to participate at another time.

ACCEPTANCE

We receive many applications concurrently, and they are evaluated for enrollment based on the information submitted. Attention is given to the information furnished in the "Background Information" portion of the application. Please give thought to the information you provide in this section. Upon enrollment in a workshop, you will receive a letter providing detailed information and suggestions for preparing for the workshop.

Those applicants who were on the waiting list last year will be given priority for that workshop this year, but we cannot guarantee enrollment. Please return your application promptly.

If you receive one application and two or more wish to apply, please copy the application form and send one completed, signed application form for each participant. Consideration is given to the individual participant's application.

If the workshop is already full when your application is received, we will offer the opportunity to be placed on the waiting list and your entire deposit will be returned to you. It is advisable to list alternate workshop dates if possible.

DEPOSIT & PAYMENTS

Please make all payments in U.S. dollars, and make checks or money orders payable to "John Sexton Photography Workshops." We do not accept credit cards for workshop deposits.

A deposit of $250 for each workshop applied for must accompany your application. This includes a non-refundable $150 acceptance fee. Applications without a deposit cannot be processed.

The balance of the fee for each workshop is due no later than 60 days prior to the first day of the workshop. If you fail to pay your balance 60 days prior to the first day of the workshop, your space in the workshop and your entire deposit will be forfeited, and your place will be filled from the waiting list.

FEES

Workshop fees cover tuition only. Additional amenities may be included, as listed in the individual workshop descriptions. Meals (unless otherwise indicated), lodging, and air fare are not included.

WITHDRAWAL, WORKSHOP CANCELLATION & REFUND

If you need to withdraw from a workshop, you must inform us no later than 60 days prior to the first day of your workshop, and we will refund your deposit or full tuition, whichever is applicable, less the acceptance fee of $150.

If you withdraw within the period 60 to 30 days prior to the first day of your workshop, the entire deposit of $250 will be forfeited.

No refunds of any kind will be made for withdrawal less than 30 days in advance of the first day of the workshop, during the workshop, or for no-shows.

If it is necessary for us to cancel a workshop, all registered participants will be informed immediately, and you will receive a full refund of all deposits and fees paid.

Notification of cancellation due to insufficient enrollment will be made at least 14 days prior to the start of a workshop. For this reason we encourage you to purchase refundable airline tickets, and consider purchasing trip cancellation insurance. The Workshops will not be responsible for any loss on airline tickets, or any other losses, related to cancellation.

ACCOMMODATIONS

A block of rooms, of varying room types and price ranges, has been reserved at comfortable lodges or motels for most workshops. Campgrounds are available near each location. We encourage you to stay with the group to participate in the informal exchanges occurring in this environment. Lodging information will be sent upon enrollment.

POLICIES

Please, no smoking or pets allowed on the premises. The use of mobile phones is limited to refreshment breaks and mealtimes. No pets are allowed at the lodging or on the premises.

WAIVER OF LIABILITY

The Workshops shall have no responsibility or liability for personal injury to any participant or damage to any participant's property, or for personal injuries or damage to the property of any other person resulting from the participant's involvement in any workshop. The Workshops shall have no responsibility for the acts, errors or omissions of instructors or staff, transportation companies, lodging facilities, restaurants, tour guides, and outfitters, or other providers of services to participants in the course of the workshops.

The Workshops has the right to cancel any workshop and to alter the time, context, or format of any workshop in the event circumstances so require. In the event a workshop is cancelled, for any reason, the extent of the Workshops' liability is limited to the return of all fees paid to us.

The Workshops will not be responsible for reimbursement on airline tickets due to cancellation of a workshop, or replacement of an instructor. We recommend you purchase refundable tickets and consider purchasing trip cancellation insurance.

The Workshops reserves the right to substitute instructors if necessary and will attempt to inform all participants immediately if a last minute substitution is necessary.

WAIVER AND RELEASE

During his Workshops, John Sexton occasionally photographs and records portions of the workshop sessions for his files and, in some cases, for use in public presentations on the Internet and elsewhere. The images are used primarily for informational or educational purposes so that those considering possible participation on a future workshop have a better sense of what is offered, why John Sexton offers it, and what to expect during his Workshops. In addition, John Sexton sometimes uses recordings from Workshops as part of educational presentations. John Sexton has found that using actual teaching sessions from his Workshops is an effective way to share photographic knowledge with others.

As a participant in the Workshops, you are consenting to allow John Sexton and others to photograph you and to record your voice, and to use these photographs and/or recordings for educational uses and for other purposes of publicity relating to future workshop purposes, including those in printed form or on the Internet or other similar mediums that now exist or are used in the future. The term "photograph" in this Waiver and Release includes both still photographs and motion picture or video footage.

You also consent to allow John Sexton to reproduce and use these photographs and recordings of your voice for use in all domestic and foreign markets. Further, you acknowledge that others may use and/or reproduce such photographs and recordings.

You hereby release John Sexton and his associated or affiliated companies, their directors, officers, agents, employees and customers, and appointed advertising agencies, their directors, officers, agents and employees from all claims of every kind on account of such use in the future.

DARKROOM EDITION 2016 SPECIAL PRINT OFFER

TREES IN SNOW, WINTER SUN
EL CAPITAN MEADOW
YOSEMITE VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

©1989 John Sexton
All rights reserved

The first limited edition print I released was the image Birch Trunks, New Hampshire. It was offered under the mantle of Darkroom Edition 1986 thirty years ago. Over the years I have offered a number of different Darkroom Edition limited edition prints. Since 2016 marks the 30th anniversary of the Darkroom Edition series, it seemed like a perfect time to rejuvenate the idea.

The new Darkroom Edition 2016 limited edition print is Trees in Snow, Winter Sun, El Capitan Meadow Yosemite Valley, California. I made this image a number of years ago on a winter trip to my favorite photographic location, Yosemite Valley. The day started out with a heavy overcast that soon lead to a steady snowfall. In early afternoon the clouds suddenly broke and strong, crisp low-angle sunlight raked across El Capitan Meadow. The light moved quickly so I had to respond in kind. I hope you will find this print to be as interesting and as exciting as I do.

This 11x14" silver gelatin print is offered in a limited edition of 100 signed and numbered prints, plus ten Artist's Proofs. When the edition is sold out no further prints will be made for sale in any size. Though my open edition 11x14" prints have a retail price in galleries of $1,000, the introductory price for this limited edition print is $800 – a 20% discount. After December 31, 2016 the retail for any remaining unsold prints will increase to $2,000, and escalate as the edition sells.

You can place a secure order at Ventana Editions online store:

<http://ventanaeditions.stores.yahoo.net/trinsnwisuel.html>

If you prefer to order via phone, or need further information, please contact Anne Larsen at 1-831-659-3130. You can also email info@johnsexton.com

Prints will be shipped no later than March 31, 2017. Based on the response to previous print offers, early orders are advised to avoid disappointment.

The edition is limited to 100 signed and numbered silver gelatin prints, plus 10 Artist's Proofs. Each 11x14" print will be personally printed by John to current archival standards, mounted, and overmatted to 16x20" on 100 percent rag museum board. A beautifully printed archival presentation sheet will accompany each print. When the edition is sold out no further prints will be made for sale in any size.
